

SCRUM LEADERSHIP SERIES

Scrum Mastering III: Organizational Improvement

For organizations that need a Scrum Master who can help the organization keep improving when the constraint is no longer one team's events. Shared language first. Then people who can see the work, make a bounded change, and watch whether it responds.

Who this is for

Leaders accountable for whether the business can actually execute. Teams that will take the course together so the working boundary is shared. Not individuals collecting the next badge.

An individual can take the same course self-paced. That path is secondary on this sheet.

What SM3 helps a team do

The course gives the team a practical account of Scrum Mastering as work moves off one team and into the organization: whether Scrum behaviors are still present, how organizational decisions get made without stolen ownership, and how scaling answers demand instead of installing a framework. Organizational Improvement.

Foundation is not capability

Foundational knowledge can begin outside the domain. Professional capability cannot be established outside it. SM3 can give concepts, distinctions, and demonstrated understanding of the official objectives. Capability develops when that thinking is used in this company's work, a bounded change is made, and the work answers back. Domain Guides is the program option if the skill must live here after the course.

THIRTEEN MODULES

What the course covers

Each module follows the corresponding chapter of the guidebook. People study the objectives, apply them to their own work, and check understanding before the next module unlocks. Expert guidance is either the agent tutor or live instruction.

The work includes Cynefin and Lean wastes in the delivery path, facilitating organizational decisions, coaching stances, adoption without empty Scrum forms, scaling as a response to demand, and leadership that stays accountable.

Domain Guides

Domain Guides are your people, inside your company. They know this operating environment. They learn to make bounded changes and see whether the work responds. If the skill must live here after SM3, that is the program.
